Directors' report

The Directors present their annual report and audited financial statements of STLC Europe Six Leasing Limited (the "Company") for the financial year ended 31 December 2021.

Principal activities, business review and future developments

The Company is a limited liability Company incorporated under the Companies Acts 2014 of Ireland with a registration number of 592364. The principal activity of the Company is the purchase and lease of aircraft.

The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of STLC Finance One Limited. STLC Finance One Limited entered into a liquidation process in May 2024. This process is ongoing, however, managements intention is to transfer its entire shareholding in the Company to GTLK Europe DAC – in Liquidation. STLC Finance One Limited is a 100% subsidiary of GTLK Europe DAC - in Liquidation (the "Parent"), a Company incorporated in Ireland with a registered address at 3rd Floor, 20 on Hatch Street Lower, Dublin 2, Ireland. The Parent is currently under the management and control of the liquidators pursuant to the Irish High Court order with effect from 31 May 2023. The Parent is a wholly owned subsidiary of JSC "GTLK", a company incorporated in Russia with a registered address at Room 100, Building 73, ul. Respubliki, Salekhard, Yamalo-Nenetsky Avtonomny Okrug, Russian Federation 629008 (the "Ultimate Parent").

As at 31 December 2021, the Company owns one aircraft (the "Aircraft") (2020: one aircraft which was leased under a finance lease agreement to a third-party lessee).

Subsequent to the year end, as outlined in the 'Significant Subsequent Events' section in note 22, the Company has been severely impacted by the events which have unfolded in Russia and the Ukraine. Since the year end, the lessee issued termination notices in respect of the lease agreement. Management are actively seeking commercial opportunities for the Company's aircraft asset. This process is ongoing and at the date of this report no formal agreements have been reached. The Directors do not expect the present level of activity to be sustained for the foreseeable future. The Directors continue to seek new opportunities for future growth and development of the Company.

- Geopolitical risk

- Foreign exchange risk
- Interest rate risk
- Credit risk

Going concern

The financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis, notwithstanding that the Group, of which the Company is a part, is currently operating under global sanctions and the Company's Parent is subject to an Irish High Court liquidation order.

The Directors believe that the Company is a going concern, having received a letter of support from the Parent, under the management and control of the liquidators, confirming that the Parent will continue to support the Company for at least 12 months from the date of signing the financial statements. The Directors are confident that the Parent has sufficient funds to support the Company in the short term.

Since the year-end, escalating geopolitical tensions resulting from the ongoing armed conflict between Russia and Ukraine have adversely affected the Russian economy. From February 26, 2022, the Group has operated under sanctions imposed by several countries. Please refer to Note 22 for details of significant subsequent events.

Management are actively seeking commercial opportunities for the Company's aircraft asset. This process is ongoing and at the date of this report no formal agreements have been reached.

The going concern basis applied in these financial statements is heavily dependent on the successful sale of the Company and the continuation of its business under new management. As of the date of signing this report, all liabilities of the Company relate to intercompany debt. The Parent is committed to supporting the Company for at least 12 months from the date of signing the financial statements, and the Directors believe that the Parent has sufficient resources and liquidity to do so.

Based on their analysis and all available information, the Directors believe that the Company will be able to meet its obligations as they fall due over the forthcoming twelve-month period. Accordingly, the Directors have concluded that it continues to be appropriate to prepare the financial statements on a going concern basis.

- Lack of Exchangeability (Amendments to IAS 21)

There are no other new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations that are effective subsequent to the financial year-end that would have a material impact on the results or financial position of the Company.

Significant accounting judgements and estimates

The preparation of the financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that may affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgments about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates with revisions being recognised prospectively.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Information about estimates and underlying assumptions that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment to the results for the year ending 31 December 2021 is included in the following accounting policies:

- Recoverability of receivables (refer to note 12 for carrying values)
- Recoverability of finance lease receivables (refer to Note 11 for carrying amount)

See the specific accounting policies for more detail of the judgements and estimates used.

The following accounting policies have been applied in the Statement of Comprehensive Income and the Statement of Financial Position:

Foreign currencies

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to US$ at exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities are retranslated to the functional currency at the currency rate ruling at the reporting date.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency rate are translated using the exchange rate as at the date of initial transaction. Profit or losses arising from foreign currency translation and on settlement of amounts receivable and payable in other currencies are dealt with in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Leased assets

As a lessor the Company classifies its leases as either operating or finance leases.

A lease is classified as a finance lease if it transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset and classified as an operating lease if it does not. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recognised as receivables at the amount of the Company's finance lease receivables.

Finance lease income is allocated to accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the Company's net investment outstanding in respect of the leases.

Notes to the financial statements

2. Accounting policies (continued)

Finance income and expense

Interest income and expenses are recognised on an accrual basis by reference to the principal outstanding using the effective interest rate method.

Operating expenses

Operating expenses have been recognised in the Statement of Profit and loss and Comprehensive Income on an accruals basis.

Taxation

Current tax comprises the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the financial year and any adjustment to the tax payable or receivable in respect of previous years. It is measured using the tax rate enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date. Current tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for the financial reporting purposes and the amount used for taxation purposes.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future profits will be available against which they can be used. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profit will be available against which they can be used. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset only if certain criteria are met.

Property, plant and equipment

Aircraft are recorded at cost of the individual components, net of any manufacturer credits and inclusive of applicable technical and legal costs, less accumulated depreciation and impairment loss. Interest and other costs that are directly attributable to the financing of process payments for aircraft are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets.

The Company has adopted component based depreciation on all of its aircraft which it holds, in which the annual depreciation amount is determined based on the computation of the forecast utilisation of the components and the predicted cost of future maintenance. The annual depreciation amount for each component based on component based depreciation is reviewed annually and adjusted if necessary.

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of each component of the aircraft, less its estimated residual value, on a straight-line basis over its estimated useful life "EUL" from the date of manufacture in the case of the airframe and from the last maintenance event in the case of other components. The following table outlines the estimated useful life per aircraft component:

2. Accounting policies (continued)Property, plant and equipment (continued)

Component	Estimated Useful Life
6 year check	6 years
8 year check	8 years
10 year check	10 years
12 year check	12 years
Landing Gear	10 years
APU	3-8 years per approved manufacturer maintenance program for APU type/model and adjusted for utilisation and number of performed shop visits
Engine	3-15 years per approved manufacturer maintenance program for engine type/model and adjusted for engine thrust, utilisation, number of performed shop visits and environment
Life Limited Parts (LLP)	8-30 years (for new LLP) per approved manufacturer maintenance program for engine type/model and adjusted for engine thrust and utilisation
Airframe	25 years with 10% residual value

The estimates of useful lives and residual values are reviewed periodically.

Aircraft are assessed for recoverability in accordance with IAS 36-Impairment of Assets ("IAS 36"), whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying value may not be recoverable. Impairment loss is charged to reduce the carrying value of specific assets to their recoverable amount where an impairment is considered to have occurred. Where the recoverable amount is greater than the carrying value no adjustment is made to the carrying value unless the asset was previously impaired. For the purpose of measuring an impairment loss, each aircraft is tested individually by comparing carrying value to recoverable amount.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the Statement of Financial Position include cash on hand and deposits repayable on demand with any qualifying financial institution. Deposits are repayable on demand if they can be withdrawn at any time without notice and without penalty or if a maturity or period of notice of not more than 24 hours or one working day has been agreed. Cash includes cash in hand and deposits denominated in foreign currencies.

Cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of Statement of Cash Flows includes bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Company's cash management.

Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are stated net of impairment for expected credit losses.

Loans and borrowings

Loans and borrowings are initially booked at fair value less transaction costs and subsequently measured at amortised cost on the Statement of Financial Position using the effective interest method.

Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are carried at amortised cost.

Notes to the financial statements

2. Accounting policies (continued)

Dividends

Dividends are recognised in the financial statements when they have been appropriately approved or authorised by the Directors.

Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity as per the Company's Articles of Association.

Provisions

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, a present legal or constructive obligation exists that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

Non-derivative financial instruments

Financial instruments

(i) Recognition and measurement

On initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at: amortised cost; FVOCI – debt investment; FVOCI – equity investment; or FVTPL.

Financial assets are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition unless the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets, in which case all affected financial assets are reclassified on the first day of the first reporting period following the change in the business model.

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FVTPL:

- it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A debt investment is measured at FVOCI if it meets both of the following conditions and is not designated as FVTPL:

- it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI. This election is made on an investment- by-investment basis.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial instruments. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

A financial asset (unless it is a trade receivable without a significant financing component that is initially measured at the transaction price) is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at FVTPL, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition. The financial assets held by the Company and Company are trade receivables, cash and other receivables. IFRS 9 uses an expected credit loss (“ECL”) model.

(ii) Impairment of financial assets

The impairment model applies to financial assets measured at amortised cost, contract assets and debt investments at FVOCI, but not to investments in equity instruments.. IFRS 9 also covered the impairment of amounts recoverable under leases carried under IAS 17 / IFRS 16.

The financial assets at amortised cost consist of trade receivables and cash. Under IFRS 9, loss allowances are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are ECLs that result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and
- lifetime ECLs: these are ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument.

The Company has recorded ECLs on their financial assets measured at amortised cost and on its finance lease receivables in accordance with IFRS 9.

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECLs, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Company’s historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward-looking information.

The Company recognises loss allowances for expected credit loss (“ECL”) on:

- Financial assets measured at amortised cost including finance lease receivables;
- Debt instruments measured at FVOCI; and
- Lease commitments and financial guarantee contracts.

Financial assets measured at fair value, including debt investments or equity securities measured at FVTPL, equity securities designated at FVOCI and derivative financial assets, are not subject to the ECL assessment.

Under the simplified approach, impairment allowances are always measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL or 12-month ECL.

Lifetime ECLs are the ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of the financial instrument. If there is a significant increase in credit risk under the simplified approach.

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all cash shortfalls. ECLs are measured as followed:

- Financial assets that are not credit-impaired: as the present value of all cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the Company in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive).
- Financial assets that are credit-impaired: as the difference between the gross carrying amount and the present value of estimated cash flows

The Company applied the simplified approach when calculating lifetime credit losses for lease receivables, loan receivables and contract assets. The Company applied the simplified provision matrix approach to recognise expected credit losses on trade and other receivables.

The Lifetime ECL is calculated by multiplying the lifetime Probability of default (PD) by Loss given default (LGD). PD estimates are calculated based on statistical rating models and assessed using rating tools tailored using both quantitative and qualitative factors. PDs are estimated considering the contractual maturities of exposures and estimated prepayment rates. The Company estimates LGD parameters are based on the history of recovery rates and consider the specific factors associated with the leased asset. LGD is calculated on a discounted cash flow basis using the effective interest rate as the discounting factor.

Write-off

The gross carrying amount of a financial asset is written off (either partially or in full) to the extent that there is no realistic prospect of recovery. This is generally the case when the Company determines that the debtor does not have the assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. However, financial assets that are written off could still be subject to enforcement activities in order to comply with the Company's procedures for recovery of amounts due.

(iii) Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognised from the Company's statement of financial position when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired or;
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a passthrough arrangement, it evaluates if, and to what extent, it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of its continuing involvement. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained.

Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

A financial liability is derecognised by the Company when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled, or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Measurement of fair values

When measuring the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company uses market observable data as far as possible. Fair values are categorised into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3: inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or a liability might be categorised in different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Company did not employ any persons during the financial year (2020: none). Staff are employed directly by the Parent and the cost of employees is borne by the Parent. The Company had three Directors during the financial year (2020: Three Directors) and the estimated cost of services provided by the Directors and borne by the Parent during the current year is US$ 4k (2020: US$ 3k).

The Company has not paid any fees or other remuneration to the Directors related to the Directorship role they provided to the Company as part of their group-wide executive management role. The amount of US$ 4k (2020: US$ 3k) is an estimated allocation of the emoluments paid or payable by the Parent to those individuals in relation to their group wide executive management role. The estimated allocation is based on an estimate of the qualifying services, including management of the affairs of the Company, they provided to the Company during the financial year.

9. Income tax expense included in the determination of profit or loss for the year (continued)

In assessing the ability to realise the deferred tax assets, all available evidence is considered and weighed to determine whether derecognition of a deferred tax asset is needed or should be removed. The ultimate realisation of deferred tax assets is dependent upon the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences become deductible.

The Company had a deferred tax asset of US$ 1.1 million at 31 December 2021 which has not been recognised (2020: Nil). The Company's deferred tax asset arises due to unrelieved trading losses forward. Although these unrelieved trading losses are available to offset any future taxable income of the Company, the Directors have decided not to recognise this asset at this point in time as, due to the nature of the business in which the Company operates, it is not possible to forecast profit or loss levels with sufficient accuracy to estimate the amount of any deferred tax asset that will be recoverable.

The total net investment in finance leases included in the Company statement of financial position represents total lease payments receivable in relation to one aircraft as at 31 December 2021 (2020: one), net of finance charges related to future accounting periods. Finance charges are allocated to accounting periods so as to give a constant rate of return on the net cash investment in the lease. During 2021, the Company recognised interest income on lease receivables of US$ 1.1 million (2020: US$ 983k).

On 8 April 2022 the lessee issued termination notice in respect of its agreement with the Company. Commercial negotiations with the Lessee in respect of the Aircraft are ongoing.

11. Finance lease receivable (continued)

As at 31 December 2021, the Company has an allowance for expected credit losses on minimum lease payments receivable of US$ 5.4 million (2020: US$ 187k). The following table shows the carrying values and fair values of financial assets and liabilities. Where the carrying value of financial assets and financial liabilities is a reasonable approximation of fair value no adjustment to fair value is recognised. Financial assets and liabilities are deemed to be within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities are measured as the net present value of the future cash flows in relation to the financial assets and liabilities discounted at the underlying interest rate as adjusted for movements in market interest rates with the exception of borrowings from shareholders.

The carrying value for borrowings from shareholders is the same as the fair value as the loan has a payable on demand feature and is not discounted on initial recognition.

19. Risks and uncertainties

The Company's Directors have overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework. The Company's exposure to risk on its financial instruments and the management of such risk is carried out on an ongoing basis. The Company's activities and the role of each party to the transaction are clearly defined and documented.

The Directors monitor the Company's performance, reviewing management accounts on the performance of the loan and lease portfolio. Such review is designed to ensure that the terms of the documentation have been complied with and that no unforeseen risks have arisen.

Geopolitical Risk

Since the year end, the escalation of geopolitical tension resulting from the ongoing armed conflict between Russia and Ukraine has had a negative impact on the economy of the Russian Federation. Since 26 February 2022 the Group, of which the Company is a part, has operated under sanctions imposed by a number of countries. According to official data, the Ultimate Parent Company, JSC GTLK, was included in the fifth package of sanctions imposed by the European Union (hereinafter — the EU). for further information refer to note 22 significant subsequent events.

The conflict has and will continue to have short and long term consequences on the aviation industry. As a result of the ongoing conflict, the international sanctions and their impact on the Company, an impairment loss on financial assets of US$ 5.4 million was recognised in relation to outstanding finance lease payments. Management is taking all measures necessary to ensure compliance with sanctions and to ensure the stability of the Group's operations (including subsidiaries' operations). The Directors are actively monitoring the situation and continue to manage the company's assets within investment and risk parameters that have been established.

Asset risk

The Company bears the risk of re-leasing or selling the aircraft in its fleet at the end of their lease terms. If demand for aircraft decreases market lease rates may fall, and should such conditions continue for an extended period, it could affect the market value of aircraft in the fleet and may result in an impairment charge. The Directors have employed personnel with appropriate experience of the aviation industry to manage the fleet and remarket or sell aircraft as required in order to reduce this risk.

The Company is highly dependent upon the continuing financial strength of the commercial airline industry. A significant deterioration in this sector could adversely affect the Company through a reduced demand for aircraft in the fleet and / or reduced market rates, higher incidences of lessee default and an increase in aircraft on the ground.

The Company periodically performs reviews of its carrying values of aircraft and associated assets, trade receivables, notes receivables and the recoverable amount of deferred tax assets and the sufficiency of accruals and provisions, substantially all of which are susceptible to the above risks and uncertainties. There is a material risk to the value of the Company's operating lease asset that were in the process of repossession. There is a significant level of uncertainty in terms of timing when, and if, this aircraft redeliver to the Company and as a result these aircraft may suffer deterioration in maintenance condition due to inadequate maintenance and lack of components. Material judgements also apply in respect of property, plant and equipment and include the identification and subsequent measurement of impairment, which relies on a measurement of current market value or specific maintenance condition of the aircraft. A decrease in current market value due to the on-going and evolving geopolitical situation in Ukraine / Russia and the Covid-19 outbreak may result in additional impairment of related assets.

Foreign exchange risk

The Company has a minimum exposure to foreign exchange risk as the majority of transactions are denominated in US dollars.

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Company has fixed interest rates per annum on loans and is therefore not exposed to fluctuations in interest rates. As a result no sensitivity analysis is included.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk arising from the possibility that the Company will incur losses from the failure of counterparties to meet their obligations. The Company holds cash balances which are invested on a short term basis and are classified as cash and cash equivalents. These deposits and other financial instruments give rise to credit risk on amounts due from counterparties. Credit risk is managed by limiting the aggregate amount and duration of exposure to any one counterparty. The Company typically does not enter into deposits with a duration of more than three months.

19. Risks and uncertainties (continued)

Credit risk (continued)Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure before security. Receivables from related parties are neither past due nor impaired. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date was:

In thousands of US$	Note	2021	2020
Cash and cash equivalents		348	350
Finance lease receivable	11	14,801	13,469
Trade and other receivables	12	84	789
Receivable from a company under common control	18	4	-
Total		15,237	14,608

Receivables represent rent, maintenance and other charges related to the lease of aircraft to lessees. The Company's leasing arrangements require lessees to pay rentals in arrears, an early termination of a lease due to a credit event may expose the Company to consequential economic loss due to lower rentals being available from replacement lessees and also possible costs associated with repossession, repair and maintenance and transitioning of the aircraft to a new lessee or selling of aircraft.

The Company continues to monitor the economic environment of its customers including lease deferrals entered during the COVID pandemic and subsequent lease terminations due to the impact of the Russian-Ukraine war, as well as taking actions to limit its credit exposures. Credit loss provisions were revised during the reporting period in line with the changing economic and lessee specific circumstances. This has resulted in the impairment of certain balances that originated in the pre-Russian Ukraine war.

19. Risks and uncertainties (continued)Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due. The Company has funded a significant part of its operations with debt financing. The ability of the Company to continue to operate is dependent upon its ability to meet its payment obligations and adhere to covenant requirements under the respective loan agreements, which are dependent, among other things, upon the factors outlined above. The following are the contractual maturities of financial liabilities, including estimated interest payments and excluding the impact of netting agreements:

In thousands of US$ 2021	Carrying amount	Contractual cash flows	12 months or less	Between 2 and five periods	After 5 periods
Loans and borrowings	4,886	5,149	1,665	3,484	-
Borrowings from shareholder	14,315	15,563	-	15,563	-
Payables to related parties	131	131	131	-	-
Trade and other payables	22	22	22	-	-
Total	19,354	20,865	1,818	19,047	-

In thousands of US$ 2020	Carrying amount	Contractual cash flows	12 months or less	Between 2 and five periods	After 5 periods
Loans and borrowings	6,239	6,814	1,665	5,149	-
Borrowings from shareholder	10,553	12,031	-	12,031	-
Payables to related parties	1,955	1,955	1,955	-	-
Trade and other payables	13	13	13	-	-
Total	18,760	20,813	3,633	17,180	-

Due to sanctions, 3rd party loans and borrowings were called in earlier and were repaid in full on 28th March 2022. The early repayment was financed by an intergroup loan from the Parent. It is not expected that the cash flows in the maturity analysis for borrowings from shareholders and trade and other payables could occur significantly earlier, or at significantly different amounts.

20. Commitments and contingent liabilities

Refer to Note 13 for the future commitments to long term loans and Note 19 for the future commitments to related party loans. There have been no other capital commitments other than those stated above as at 31 December 2021.

There were no contingent liabilities at 31 December 2021. Contingent liabilities are assessed continually to determine whether transfers of economic benefits have become probable. Where future transfers of economic benefits change from previously disclosed contingent liabilities, provisions are recognised in the period in which the changes in probability occur.

21. Charges

The Company had four charges registered with the companies' registration office in favour of a third-party financier at 31 December 2021. These charges were subsequently satisfied in 2022.

22. Significant subsequent events

Since the year end, the escalation of geopolitical tension resulting from the ongoing armed conflict between Russia and Ukraine has had a negative impact on the economy of the Russian Federation. The European Union, the USA and a number of other countries imposed new sanctions on a number of Russian state-owned and commercial entities, including banks, individuals and certain industries, as well as restrictions on certain types of transactions. Some international companies announced the suspension of operations in Russia or the termination of product supplies to Russia. These factors caused a substantially increased instability in financial markets, frequent and significant price changes, weakening of the rouble against key world currencies, volatility of demand and prices in international oil and gas markets.

Since 26 February 2022 the Group, of which the Company is a part, has operated under sanctions imposed by a number of countries. According to official data, the Ultimate Parent Company, JSC GTLK, was included in the fifth package of sanctions imposed by the European Union (hereinafter — the EU).

The sanctions, among other implications, provide for:

- Prohibition to provide insurance and reinsurance, directly or indirectly, in relation to aircraft to any person, entity or body in Russia or for use in Russia;
- Prohibition to sell, supply, transfer or export, directly or indirectly, goods and technology suited for use in aviation or the space industry to any natural or legal person, entity or body in Russia;
- Prohibition to provide any one or any combination of the following activities; overhaul, repair, inspection, replacement, modification or defect rectification of an aircraft or component to any natural or legal person, entity or body in Russia or for use in Russia.

The Group factors these sanctions into its operations, regularly monitors them and analyses their effect on the financial position and financial performance.

In March 2022, due to sanctions a third-party financier called in its loan to the Company. On 28th March 2022 the loan was repaid in fully and was refinanced with an intergroup loan from the Parent.

On 8 April 2022, the lessees issued termination notices in respect of their lease agreements with the Company. Commercial negotiations with the Lessee in respect of the Aircraft are ongoing

On 21 April 2022 the United Kingdom imposed sanctions on the Group followed by the U.S. on 2 August 2022.

On 31 May 2023 by order of the Irish High Court the Company's Parent together with one of the Parents subsidiaries, GTLK Europe Capital DAC, were placed into liquidation. Damien Murran and Julian Moroney of Teneo Restructuring Ireland were appointed as joint liquidators.

The conflict between Russian and Ukraine is a significant geopolitical and economic event for the global economy and in particular the aviation industry and there is uncertainty over how the future development of this conflict will affect the Company. As a result of the ongoing conflict, the international sanctions and their impact on the Company, an impairment loss on financial assets of US$ 5.4 million was recognised in relation to outstanding finance lease payments. Management is taking all measures necessary to ensure compliance with sanctions and to ensure the stability of the Group's operations (including subsidiaries' operations).

There have been no other significant events since the year end until the date of signing of this report that would require adjustment or disclosure in these financial statements.
